Adrien Garioud and Marius Grimsaeth - 27/01/2006.

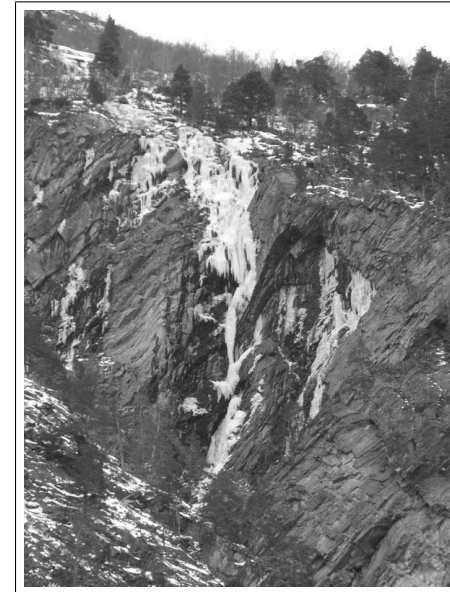

Finding the climb

From Oppdal drive on the road 70 to the direction of Sundalsøra. When reaching a village called Gjøra turn left in the direction of the national park. Park after 2,3 km on the side of the road.

From there you can see the ice-fall. It takes 20 min to get to the base of the climb but crossing the river can be challenging.

Guide

The first pitch (50 m) starts with petals and finish in a small roof. The second pitch (60m) starts on the rock behind the freestanding (2 bolts), you then have to move on the freestanding, you continue by climbing a second pillar and finish with some easier climbing.

To return, abseil from a tree at the top to the first belay place (60m) and then to the ground (50m).
